

Terms and Conditions – Rākau Roroa

The term “Expression of Interest” used by Changing Minds in the Rākau Roroa initiative refers to the completion of an online application form, which, if it meets our criteria, can be submitted to the Rākau Roroa selection panel. Applicants may contact us if accessibility prevents filling out the form online. If your Expression of Interest is submitted successfully it will be entered into a pool and prioritised by a points-based system in terms of a set of pre-determined selection criteria. The Expression of Interest does not constitute a contract to work.

Following throughout checking, the Expression of Interest applications with the highest points will be sent to a selection panel for assessment. When a decision on your Expression of Interest has been made, you will be notified by email.

If your Expression of Interest is not selected from the Pool the first time, it may remain for consideration for another cohort. If it is still unsuccessful, you will receive formal communication that your application did not make selection. Decisions made by the selection panel are final and cannot be entered into.

Your Expression of Interest and any other details you submit as part of the Expression of Interest process will be retained by Changing Minds and the Rākau Roroa initiative in accordance with New Zealand Health Privacy legislation for the term of the contract and we may contact you should further opportunities arise where you meet the criteria.

Changing Minds has measures to identify Expression of Interest applications that use improper, injurious, or offensive purposes. Changing Minds reserves the right to suspend and/or terminate your Expression of Interest application at any time without notice at our discretion if we have reasonable grounds to believe you have breached any terms of use.
